Facebook Page

Please see our Facebook page for all the latest updates from Wakatipu High School, and take a look at our sports page for news on football, rugby, snow sports and more. Posts this week include our Te Wiki o te Reo Māori celebratory competitions, and a video of our student musicians performing in the school foyer

Kia ora and welcome to the Wakatipu High School newsletter at the end of Te Wiki o Te Reo Maori! One of the ways we have celebrated has been with some fine themed bells requested by students this week, including the most played bell of the year today - Poi E, by the Patea Maori Club :)

It was great to see so many parents at Senior Next Steps last night. It was a high turnout, and it is wonderful to see so many families engaged with their students education. Apart from the rain, it was a very positive evening which we hope parents and students found useful.

BoT Student Representative - while our annual Head Student selection process begun today with short-listed students speaking at year level assemblies, the other student leadership event that happens in September is the election of student BoT reps. This is a voting process that happens in schools nationally, and it was great this year as we had a high number of students who voted. As a result - It is my pleasure to announce that Indigo Little is the BoT Student Rep for the next 12 months. My thanks to Mio Akiyama for her contribution to this role during the past year.

WHS is a very busy place next week, including a number of important events for parents:

Monday - Parenting Speaker - final reminder re our visiting parenting speaker. It is free but you do need to book - see below for more.

Tuesday - Speechfest Finals and Science Open Evening.

Thursday - Year 10 Branches Camp Parent Evening, 7pm, and the Battle of the Musos - which continues until the Final on Saturday.

Friday - Winter Sports Assembly. In the theatre at 0900, this will acknowledge the sporting success of our athletes and teams over the past two terms. Students and parents of students who will be recognised in the assembly will be invited in the coming days. Also on Friday - Emerging Creatives, see below.

Branches Art Auction - a big heads up for this great event which happens on the last night of term. It is always a great event and is a very important fundraiser for the Branches Trust which makes a huge contribution to the cost of the camp each year. Put it in your calendar and make sure you come along. More below. Only two weeks to go in the term now, and with all the events above, senior assessments and Year 9 Journeys, it will fly by.

Another weekend of settled weather ahead, with Saturday looking particularly pleasant. With the ski season now drawing to a close, it should be a great day for some spring turns, enjoy :)

Student Focus - Alex Bailey

Year 12's Alex Bailey has had a busy couple of weeks. After he was honoured with an Otago Daily Times Class Award, presented by none other than NZ Prime Minister Jacinda Ardern, his short story 'Atomic Manipulation Lab' was published as one of 34 previous winners of Southland's Dan Davin Literary Award. Meanwhile, he also ran his own campaign for Student Representative to WHS's Board of Trustees.

16-year-old Alex is no stranger to a full schedule; this summer, he attended the New Zealand Informatics Olympiad Training Camp with 30 other prodigious youngsters from around the country, taught by leading informatics professors from the University of Canterbury.

Alex receives his award from Jacinda Ardern

"The camp was a really great opportunity," he says. "It was about meeting people who are like-minded and who have the same passion as you. We learnt so much."

Since WHS Technology Assistant HoLA David Harding suggested Alex try competitive informatics last year, Alex now regularly competes in the online New Zealand Informatics Competition (NZIC) every three months and hopes to make it qualify for the annual International Olympiad in Informatics (IOI). "One day I'd like to do that, but it's a lot of study and there's one more chance this year, so I'm still practicing."

Alex's interests aren't all digital, however. When he's not at his laptop, he plays guitar in WHS students punk rock band Rabbit Pilot - recently playing in this year's Smokefree Rockquest - and is an active member of WHS's Table Tennis Team, which recently finished 2nd in the boy's division at last month's Southland Secondary School's Champs. If that wasn't enough - he also works as a lifeguard at Queenstown's Alpine Aqualand outside of his studies.

"It's a great job, I love it," Alex says. "The people there have been really good to me and put me through lifeguard training, for which I also got 25 level 3 credits at school. I got that role through WHS's careers department, and I've since done a few different courses with Aqualand; first aid, the Pool Lifeguard Practicing Certificate (PLPC) and the PLSA, (Pool Lifeguard Skills Award)."

Now a senior student, Alex is focussed on the future. With the recent Class Act Award, Alex also received the University of Otago's Leaders of Tomorrow scholarship, which offers $6000 towards living costs while studying at university.

"I really want to study computer science, I think that's definitely the route I want to go down," he says. "I want to do that, then get into programming, so I can work doing what I really like."

For Alex, the digital age offers a world of possibilities. He credits this thinking to his dad, a teacher at Arrowtown Primary School and former national table tennis competitor.

A firm advocate of artificial intelligence in computing, he can't wait to see what the future has in store, and sees how is time at WHS has helped him prepare for his passion.

"When I came to Wakatipu, it was the first year that we had BYOD. Now, I literally can't even imagine us not having that anymore. It's such an essential thing. Google Classroom, and all the resources that go along with that, and those that the school has online - we'd be such a different school without it!"

Another incredible WHS student who gets involved with so many of the opportunities available to him, a massive well done to Alex!

Stronger Families Tour

Author, speaker and media personality Yvonne Godfrey is coming to Wakatipu High School on Monday, 17th September for a public parents evening on 'Parenting Yadults', which aims to help families to thrive, not just survive. In the session, parents will discover how to develop responsibility and independence, gain cooperation, and how to avoid common parenting traps. Tickets are free - however attendees are asked to book online by clicking here.

The English Learning Area invites you to attend the SpeechFest 2018 finals which will be held on Tuesday 18th September, 6-8pm in the Wakatipu High School Theatre.

Science Open Evening

We would like to invite students and their families to the Science Learning Area on Tuesday 18th September between 4:30 and 6:30pm to see and hear about some of the exciting projects students have been working on as part of "Connected Journeys".

Creatives Poster Competition & Art Exhibition

The WHS Design and DVC students will be exhibiting their work at Fluid's Frontroom Sharespace located at 10 Memorial Street in Queenstown from the 21st of September to the 21st of October.

The Arts Department is excited to invite you to the opening of 'Emerging Creatives', our Design Competition/Exhibition, at 6.30pm on Friday the 21st of September. Drinks and canapes will be offered before the awards which begin at 7pm. We hope to see you there.

Poster Competition

At the beginning of the year, the Year 12 and 13 design students construct individualised briefs which they create a series of promotional work throughout the year. One of the brief specifications is to design a poster. The students are required to create a series of potential ideas and to work in a development sequence where they work toward a final resolved poster. We have named the competition 'Emerging Creatives'. In this competition they will be presenting their best five pieces.

Design Visual Communication

DVC students will be displaying their spatial design projects as part of a presentation assessment, giving a real world environment.

Head Student's Update: "Time is Flying by!"

As the end of the term approaches, students can be seen hunched over their schoolwork and the school is starting to buzz with end-of-term energy.

As the Arts and Culture Council Chair, I'd love to say a big good luck to all the visual art students for their upcoming projects and a massive congratulations on their hard work throughout the year. I can't wait to see some of the amazing art you all create! Also a huge congratulations to the One Act Play performers and thanks to everyone who has supported them through their fundraising efforts. We know you'll smash it at Nationals!

The head student team is hard at work thinking of new ideas to make these last couple weeks fun. The Arts and Culture Council have been spotted with funky wigs on outside student services, promoting their next event, a lipsync competition that'll rock the stage of WHS. The Whanaungatanga Council, coming off the back of the fantastic pride week, is already prepping for the next 'Guess Who' event. The Academic Council is using their smart noggins to come up with innovative ways to support senior students with their exams. On top of this, Steptember is still well on it's way, so feel free to donate to your favourite team.

Keep on keeping on!

Lexi Rosemoore, Deputy Head Girl
